Photos: Artist Brian Barneclo at W Hotel San Francisco Benefit for "Systems" Mural

On September 16, 2010, Brian Barneclo, the famed muralist whose cubist-inspired works adorn the walls of many a SF hot spot (Nopa, Rye, District, to name a few) presented new works in a show titled "Looped" at the W Hotel to benefit his Systems Mural Project, a community-funded 600 foot mural at 7th and Townsend in SOMA.

Barneclo was presented with a proclamation from the Mayor's office declaring September 16th as "Systems Mural Project Day."

Barneclo's massive Systems Mural explores all the complex systems that make up our world and daily lives, from the solar system to our brains to the government to sustainability cycles.
